THE UNIVERSITY FOR MAN EXPANDS DURING ITS THIRD SEMESTER

If you can't find it in the regular University catalog, perhaps you can find it here. The "University for Man" offers you the opportunity to get together with people and discuss ideas that really excite you in a relaxing and informal atmosphere.

NO TUITION

NO GRADES

PREREQUISITE: CURIOSITY

NON-UNIVERSITY PEOPLE ARE ENCOURAGED TO PARTICIPATE

THE GROWING UNIVERSITY FOR MAN NEEDS PERSONNEL TO FACILITATE ITS EXPANSION. PEOPLE INTERESTED IN WORKING WITH THE PROGRAM IN A CAPACITY OTHER THAN GROUP LEADER, CONTACT LEONARD EPSTEIN.

REGISTRATION

INFORMATION:

Registration will take place on the main floor of the Student Union on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 19th and 20th, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. If you cannot come to the Union to register, call Leonard Epstein, 532-6951. Registration for individual seminars may be limited by the discussion leader. Additional information about any group can be obtained by contacting the group leader.

ONE OF THE AIMS OF UNIVERSITY FOR MAN IS TO FACILITATE COMMUNICATION BETWEEN PEOPLE. IN ADDITION TO OFFERING A VARIETY OF COMMUNICATION GROUPS, THE UNIVERSITY FOR MAN IS OFFERING A NEW SERVICE ENTITLED:

MICROLAB IN COMMUNICATIONS

Because of the success of the Microlab Program during Summer Orientation the University for Man and the Counseling Center are now providing trained personnel to conduct Microlabs for on- and off-campus groups. This service is being provided because we believe that the group experience the Microlab provides can serve to make individuals more aware of themselves and others. The Microlab is based on the concept that while people do a lot of talking, they often do not communicate with one another. Working in small groups under the direction of an experienced leader, the Microlab will provide a series of experiences in communication involving both talking and doing. The goal of this process is to help individuals become more honest with others in their group, to experience a feeling of closeness with others, to become more direct with others, and to assist already functioning groups become more productive. For more information call Leonard Epstein or the Microlab Committee at 532-6736.

THE UNIVERSITY FOR MAN CONTINUES TO GROW

INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS: The Beatles, in "Within You, Without You," points to a real and very distressing part of modern life: We were talking about the space between us all. And the people who hide themselves behind a wall of illusion.

This lack of meaningful communication and feeling of not being in touch with others can be combatted by a process of interpersonal communication which is intended to increase sensitivity to others and awareness of self. Such a process of authentic communication will be attempted in this seminar. Meeting: September 23, 7:00 p.m., Ballroom K of Student Union. Joe DeOrdio is coordinator.

THE NATURE OF MARRIAGE: Marriage is the closest and most meaningful interpersonal relationship that many of us will ever enter. For the full meaning and joy of this union to be found, the partners must be aware of themselves, sensitive to the other, and capable of true and creative self-expression. This workshop is open to both single and married individuals. It will explore the avenues and methods of self-expression in marriage. Meeting: September 25, 7:00 p.m., room 205C, Student Union. Leaders: Karen and Joe DeOrdio.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN THE ROMANTIC GLOW DIMS? An opportunity to honestly discuss our expectations of marriage and our future mate. Open to engaged couples only. Meeting: September 23, 8:00 p.m., 1517 Pipher Lane. Leaders: Will and Jean Segó, Len and Bee Epstein.

MARRIAGE AND FAMILY INTERACTION: Five married student couples will be involved in a group process of exploring the emotional interaction of their marriage for the purpose of marital growth and fulfillment. Focus will be given to handling marital conflict; understanding yourself and how you relate to other family members; husband and wife role expectations; working wives and mothers, academic, financial and sexual adjustments. Meeting: September 23, 7:30 p.m., Student Union. Leader: Don Fallon.

CONCERNS OF THE STUDENT WIFE: This group will discuss the problems that are common to and unique to student wives. Sponsored by the Dames Club and open only to student wives. Meeting: September 25, 7:30 p.m., room 205A, Student Union. Leader: Bee Epstein.

PROBLEMS OF THE SINGLE WOMAN: Inter-racial dating, pre-marital sex, when to marry, how to deal with exploitation and one's own insecurity, delusions of love, sexual and romantic love, the concept of women foisted upon women by the system; these are some of the topics to be considered in this informal discussion group. Single women preferred. Meeting: September 23, 8:00 p.m., room 206A, Student Union. Leader: Beverly Schmalzried.

WHAT IS MAN? This workshop will seek an answer to this question by exploring our own responses first. It will also attempt to incorporate biological, sociological, psychological, and theological points of view. Resource individuals will be called upon, but emphasis is upon an open discussion of ourselves. Meeting: September 25, 7:30 p.m., at 1021 Denison. Leader: Joe Hafsten.

GENERATION GAP: Is there really a generation gap? If there is one, is this a new phenomenon? And in any case, whether it is or not, is it a one-way gap? Whose fault is it? Old folks? Young folks? Is it unhealthy? Is there anything wrong with it? Is it all part of growing up? Hopefully representatives of at least two generations will get together to discuss or argue about the responsibility of one generation to the other. Meeting: September 24, 7:30 p.m., room 205A, Student Union. Leader: Dwight Nesmith.

BLACK-WHITE DIALOGUE: This group will offer an opportunity for Black and White students to encounter each other as individuals, to meet together informally to share their humanity. A commitment to an honest expression of feelings is a prerequisite for participating. Meeting: September 26, 7:30 p.m., room 205A, Student Union. Leaders: Jesse Baker and Shel Edelman. Enrollment will be limited.

BLACK AFRICA TODAY: There is more ignorance about Africa and the countries that comprise it than about any other part of the world. Why? This seminar will attempt to clarify the many misconceptions about the Black race which grow out of an ignorance of Africa. A number of African students will be present as resource individuals. Such topics as everyday life in Africa, art, music, tribes, urbanization, education, agriculture, and foreign relations will be discussed. Date and place of meeting will be announced at registration. Leader: James Ali.

FOREIGN-AMERICAN STUDENT ENCOUNTER (HOW THEY SEE US AND HOW WE SEE THEM): This group will provide an opportunity for American and foreign students to discuss the ways they each see each other's country. Individuals who attend must be committed to a free expression of their feelings and be willing to share their ignorance as well as their knowledge with each other without taking offense. Meeting: September 23, 7:00 p.m., 2058 Tecumseh. Leader: Allan Brettell.

WHAT IS AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY ANYWAY? An informal

THE POLITICAL SCENE AND YOU (EMPHASIS UPON THE INDIVIDUAL'S INFLUENCE IN POLITICS): How does a person make his voice heard? An opportunity to discuss any aspect of today's political scene—local, state and national. Meeting: September 23, 7:30 p.m.; place to be announced at registration. Leaders: Nancy Twiss and Barbara Yeo.

VIOLENCE: NO RESORT OR LAST RESORT? Together we will attempt to probe the depths of the following questions: (1) Is violence becoming an American way of life? (2) Are we a people preoccupied with violence? (3) Is there a connection between violent acts? (4) Is violence contagious? Films, tapes, papers will be additional resources. Meeting: September 26, 7:30 p.m., Campus Center, 1801 Anderson Ave. Leader: Bruce Woods.

NSA FOLLOW-UP: This group will consider the issue discussed and the concepts examined at the National Student Association Congress held at K-State from August 17 to 26. The Congress revolved around the idea of student power in all its forms. What role should students play in running the university? What can a student do to improve the university? What is the purpose of an education? These are some of the questions students from all over the country came to Kansas State in August to discuss. This group provides an opportunity for K-State students to continue the dialogue begun at the NSA Congress. Meeting: September 23, 7:30 p.m., room 206C, Student Union. Leader: Bill Worley.

STUDIES IN PROBLEMATICS: What is a problem? Where do problems come from? Why do they interest when they do, and fail to when they don't? Do people differ in ability to sense and appreciate problems? How are problems disposed of? Are some insolvable? What is a pseudoproblem? This course of discussions and readings will center around the problem of answering the above and dozens of similar questions. Meeting: September 25, 7:30 p.m., Eisenhower 201. Leader: Cecil Miller.

ALFRED NORTH WHITEHEAD AND CONTEMPORARY THOUGHT: In this seminar participants will be studying writings and interpretations of A. N. Whitehead. The intention is not to know Whitehead's thought, but rather to use his thought as a foundation for establishing one's own philosophical-theological system. Members of this group will want to do some basic reading. Meeting: September 25, 7:30 p.m.; place to be announced. Leader: Don Gaymon.

OBSCENITY: Discussion in this group will include a consideration of the history, legal definition, and current usefulness of the concept of "obscenity" as it occurs in the literature of democratic theory, linguistics (i.e., Hayakawa), and aesthetics, as well as contemporary fiction. Consideration will be given to specific works and participants will be encouraged to report on a particular area. Meeting: September 25, 7:30 p.m., room 206C, Student Union. Leader: Dorothy Miller.

WHAT'S IN A SYMPHONY? For those who'd like to commit themselves to serious listening to some of the world's great music. Prerequisite: the ability to hear. And if, on the way, we learn something about melody, harmony, counterpoint, musical forms, and modes, so much the better. Meeting: September 23, 7:30 p.m., room 205C, Student Union. Leader: Bill McMillan. Enrollment limited to 18.

MANHATTAN MERRY-GO-ROUND REVISITED: It doesn't matter what your musical taste and how well you sing as long as you like to sing. All age groups are encouraged to participate in this free-swinging song-fest. Popular, folk, religious songs, as well as opera, bar-room ballads, musical comedy, and Songs of the Pogo. Rich Hause is song leader and will furnish organ and piano. You bring your guitar, ukelele, harp, etc. Meeting: September 25, 8:00 p.m., 1724 Fairchild Ave.

MAKING, PLAYING, AND DECORATING BAMBOO PIPES: This beginners' group was offered with great success during the summer. No knowledge of music is necessary. As progress is made, time will be divided between making and simple playing of pipes. With further progress and a bit of hard work we might be able to attempt simple part music. Meeting: September 26, 7:30 p.m.; place of meeting to be announced at registration. Principal piper: Don Stedman. 6291

COLLEGIATE FOOTBALL RULES AND THE MEN IN THE STRIPED SHIRTS: This group is being offered for individuals who would like to become more familiar with the rules of the game. It will be conducted by a collegiate football official who believes that criticism of officials is often prompted by ignorance of the rules of the game. Such topics as how one becomes an official, the make-up of the team of officials, how officials get ready, what is done at rule meetings, and the responsibilities of the officiating team will be discussed. The first part of the meeting will be an informal lecture and will be followed by an open question-discussion period. Meeting: September 26, 7:30 p.m., room 206C, Student Union. Leader: Dan Upson.

CONTEMPORARY BUSINESS PROBLEMS: Group is meant to appeal to people interested in business, economics, political science, sociology, psychology, and mathematics. Such questions as the following might be considered: How do you make economic decisions in a social environment where most social considerations discussion which will examine the relationships between American culture, values, and material capabilities and our role in the world. An open-ended attempt to explore the conceptions and misconceptions of America's role in the world. Such questions as the following will be considered: How do other nations see us? How do we see them? What are the future implications of our present policies? How are our policies made? Who decides? Participants will be encouraged to read widely in the field. Meeting: September 24, 7:30 p.m., 1114 Bertrand. Leader: Dave Chamberlin.

POLITICS '68 (EMPHASIS UPON CURRENT NATIONAL CAMPAIGN): This group will raise relevant questions about current political issues on the American scene. Discussion will evolve out of such issues as the so-called "new politics" which is being discussed within both camps, and other new elements in the presidential campaign of both parties. Meeting: September 25, 7:30 p.m., room 206A, Student Union. Leader: Louis Douglas.

are frequently formalized through the operation of the political structure? Should profits be the objective of a business firm? What impact will a tax increase have on business? Who really pays the taxes levied on a firm? Meeting: September 24, 7:30 p.m., room 205C, Student Union. Leader: Verlyn Richards.

THE VINE AND THE GRAPE: Vines and grapes are rare sights in our fields and on our hills, but vineyards cover much of the world's farmland. Their yield sustains and entertains most of the human race today, and in the past our ancestors seldom neglected the grape's abundant gifts at the table. If you are curious about the cultivation and use of the grape in the past and present come to the first meeting of this group, September 23, 8:00 p.m., room 205A, Student Union. Leader: Kent Donovan. Enrollment limited.

EXISTENTIAL ETHICS: Description too late to be included in brochure. Further information at UFM registration. Leader: Arnold Buntain.
